HOUSE WAR TAX BILL SLASHED IN THE SENATE

Finance Committee Cuts
Down Levy on Profits—1916 Incomes Safe.

BY ARTHUR SEARS HENNING.
Washington, D. C., May 24.—[Special.]—The senate finance committee began a radical revision of the house bill levying $1,800,000,000 war taxes.

The most important changes in the bill made by the committee today were:

The tax of 16 per cent on excess business profits was modified so as to apply only to profits attributed to the commercial demands created by the war.

The house retroactive tax on incomes for 1916 was eliminated.

The increase of the postage rate in newspapers and other periodicals was eliminated and in lieu thereof the committee decided to impose a tax probably of 2 per cent on all newspapers, magazines, billboard, and other advertising.

OTHER POSSIBLE CHANGES
Other changes seriously contemplated

Reduction of the total yield of the bill, revised to approximately $1,500,000,000, and provision for the remaining $300,000,000 by additional issues of bonds.

Increases in the tariff on specified classes of imported articles, in accordance with recommendations made by the new tariff board.

THE SENATE FIGHT IMPERILED.

The committee is to be the scene of a legislative battle of intensity over the war taxes. The measure passed by the house is decidedly unpopular and the house is now the target of objections from all parts of the country—except as regards to the scheme of financing devised by the southern Democrats who control the house.

It was learned today that the senate finance committee has been particularly impressed by the warnings that the heavy volume of taxes imposed by the house bill generally, and the excess profits tax particularly, would injure business and halt prosperity.

NEW BUSINESS TAX BASIS.

A majority of the committee easily formulated a disposition to adopt a different basis for the taxation of business and there is strong sentiment for reducing the tax levy generally and increasing the amount of revenue derived from bonds.

England and Germany tax the difference between profits in war time and the average profits for a period of years prior to the war. The house committee on ways and means refused to adopt this plan, but the senate committee has adopted the principle and is now working out the scheme in detail.

MAX STRIKE AVERAGES.

To provide the peace profits of a concern will be determined by taking an average of its net earnings during a period of three or five years preceding the war.

Then the difference between the net earnings now and the average during the preceding period would be taxed as war profits.

Many members are in favor of reducing the total tax levy to $1,250,000,000, and some would cut even lower. They contend that future generations should bear a fair share of the burden.

Great attention is also being paid to the segment of the delegation from the House of Representatives of Committee that the tax levy this year was kept within $1,200,000,000 a greater amount would be exacted next year without disturbing the business structure.

SUBMARINES TOLL FOR WEEK

Washington, D. C., May 24.—[Special.]—Information has reached the navy department that more submarines are being sunk, captured, and destroyed than ever before. Although the exact number cannot be divulged, it is known that the American destroyer fleet has been an active part in the work.

The report today said that during the last week twenty-eight German submarines were captured or destroyed.

U-BOATS STILL A PERIL.

London, May 24.—The submarine war is not yet "in hand," but there is no chance of "marvelling out" England, Admiral Lord Beresford told the Empire organization at a luncheon

MARJORIE IS TAKEN TO HER 'FOLKS' IN SOUTH

"Delbridge" Girl Is Spirited Away to Real Home.

"On our way to Dixie." This message, signed T. F. Leak and wired to Mrs. Tamsen late last night from Danville, Ill., serves as a title to the final chapter in the first volume of Marjorie "Delbridge" Weatherly's romantic story.

Marjorie has been "kidnapped" again.

Not this time, however, to have the Juvenile court and the attorneys of "Mammy" Jackson fighting for days and many in Chicago on the qui vive for news of her reappearance. This time she is being taken back to Alabama—to the rose garlanded city of Montgomery.

There, in the house of her cousin, Tilford Leak, Marjorie will sleep in the same bed that her mother slept in when as the fair Lily Leak she fled from the house of her step-mother. Marjorie is to be made happy at last.

CONFERENCE DECIDE ACTION.

Tilford Leak of Montgomery, Marjorie's cousin, came to Chicago on Tuesday. Under the name of Mr. "Tilford" he transacted a lot of business in a short time. He and Mrs. Louis Brock, who has been from the first the good fairy of the little ward of the Juvenile court, consulted.

This time Marjorie was not "kidnapped" in the true sense of the word. While she technically is a ward of the Juvenile court, officials have long been anxious to find a good home for her.

"Mammy" Jackson's efforts to regain possession of the girl will again come up for consideration in June, when the Supreme court will render a final decision in the case.

YESTERDAY Mr. Leak and Mrs. Brock boarded a train with a Tribune reporter and were carried a certain number of miles out into the country. On the railroad station platform of a crossroads town Marjorie, who had never clasped the hand of any of her mother's people, buried her curly head on Tilford Leak's shoulder, put her arms about his neck, and laughed and cried for joy. Mr. Leak, after he had recovered from his little girl's extinguishing hug, wiped his spectacles, which were covered with suspicious moisture.

Cousin William Protects Her.

"By George!" he said in a queer voice. "What do you think of any one who would hurt or say mean things about a little girl like that. She's my own flesh and blood and I've got to have her. And I'll protect her from the whole world. James Weatherly of Birmingham included. And you can quote me as saying it."

"What do you think, Marjorie?" asked Mrs. Brock. "Mr. Leak is going to take you back to his home. His wife is kind and is anxious to see you. And there's a little boy there, 6 years old, and a new little baby."

"Oh! Oh!" sighed the child rapturously. "I just love babies. I'm so happy I have to hold myself. Just to give her, mother (she has called Mrs. Brock mother since she lived with her). I wish you were coming too."

SWARS TO HER BIRTH.

Mrs. Brock explained she would go for Christmas and that Marjorie must come to Chicago and visit her, too. "Isn't it absurd and wicked?" said Mr. Leak, "for people to say the things

FRENCH TO FIT U. S. TROOPS FOR WAR IN JIG TIME

Camps Await Arrival—
Few Weeks to See Boys
Off to Fight Germans.

BY LINCOLN EYRE.

PARIS, May 24.—The French mission to the United States arrived in Paris tonight.

M. Vivian, Marshal Joffre, and their associates are home with the happy consciousness of having woven many new strands in the bond uniting the French and American peoples.

One of former Premier Vivian's first duties here will be to present to President Wilson a letter addressed to him by President Wilson. The mission is intended to embody the executive's formal acceptance of the French government's suggestion for the form that American intervention should assume and to express sympathy with the ideas for a friendly partnership between the two nations so ardently urged by the head of the mission.

Await Pershing's Troops.

Proposals of a military nature advanced to the United States by Marshal Joffre were accepted in their entirety, it is understood. It was found impossible, however, to enter upon certain points immediately, owing chiefly to the shipping situation.

The movement of American troops is likely to flow across the Atlantic in the near future, because that might well be the salvation of the allies' maritime transportation system. However, an American contingent, numbering more than the average German division, will appear on French soil long before such an event would have been deemed possible of accomplishment.

Maj. Gen. Pershing will be in Paris soon. His men will not be far behind him. Before their arrival, Marshal Joffre and his staff will have completed arrangements for their disembarkation and shipment by rail to training camps prepared for them near the front. They should be ready for the trenches in a few weeks from the day they reach France.

See Fast Page by U. S.

A comprehensive program, covering every detail of the plans made by the marshal and the American military authorities, was drawn up and ratified by President Wilson on the mission's return from its tour of the country. Its scope, doubtless, will be extended from time to time as new armies are rounded into shape in the United States.

Marshal Joffre is confident the United States will move far faster than Great Britain did in the first months of the war.

An instance of the cooperative spirit built up by the marshal's activities in Washington may site the fact that it is agreed, the American division will go to the firing line organized after the nation found most practical by the French—that is, that there will be 12,000 men per division instead of some 20,000, and that auxiliary services will be grouped as they are in the French divisionary units. A division will be composed of five brigades.

French Supplies for Troops.

What the French call "material" artillery, wagon trains, motor trucks, and drivers—all the technical corps that go to make up a combatant body, will be supplied by the French for the present. But eventually, however, starting at the latest, Marshal Joffre hopes to see an American expeditionary force, several hundred thousand strong, as complete and strong as the present British army, taking its place in the battle front of France.

There may be a slight lull after the arrival of the first American effective in order to time to insure the adequate arrangement of transport facilities. The transportation problem is engaging the serious attention of President Wilson, like Lieut. Alfred Lindleboom, who remained in New York after the mission's departure to consult further with American shipping officials and steamship companies.

It is likely Admiral Chocheprat, who expects to have an important conference with Rear Admiral Sims in Paris in the course of a few days, will be asked to advise further both the French and American governments in this respect.

U. S. Naval Activity Pleases.

Admiral Chocheprat is delighted with the strenuous activities of the navy department at Washington and expects the most lavish praise of Secretary Daniels, Assistant Secretary Roosevelt, and Admirals Benson and Mayo.

He is somewhat disappointed, however, at the decision of the navy to withdraw a fleet of small craft for submarine chasers, caused by the American navy's lack of power to requisition such craft.

Meanwhile the admiral acknowledges, with the deepest satisfaction, the American navy's willingness to send destroyers, many of which already are operating with French and British destroyers in waters about England and France.

Any delay in the passage of a bill giving the American government power to requisition ships would be extremely disastrous from the French point of view.

MARJORIE IS TAKEN TO HER 'FOLKS' IN SOUTH

they do about Marjorie being 17 years old and being the child of some other man than George Weatherly. I have left affidavits with Judge Arnold which show that Marjorie was born in the year 1902 in the home of Dr. W. C. Wall in old College avenue. The doctor was present at Marjorie's birth. The affidavit further states that this is the same child who was received in the Grady hospital, Atlanta, Dec. 7, 1902, when she was 3 months old. Dr. Wall is a well-known hospital which names her "Baby Weatherly" and proves beyond a doubt that she is the child of George Weatherly, brother of James Weatherly of Birmingham.

Scanned in Vaip.

Mr. Leak went on to explain how the mother, distracted by her troubles, had given her child into the keeping of "Mammy" Jackson, and how the Leak family had started at once to search for her.

They inquired among the Negroes of Atlanta, but in vain. All were loyal to "Mammy" and her secret. They only knew that "Mammy" had taken the little girl "somewhere north." Mr. Leak was in communication with the police of several cities, but could find no trace of the child until word reached him from Chicago through Mrs. Brock.

"I want you to say for me," he asked, "that if ever there was a good woman in this world, it's Mrs. Brock. She has helped to take care of our own. I'm going to take care of Marjorie, and her other Montgomery relatives will, too."

Marjorie brightened up and her brown eyes flashed.

"I've just thought of something," she said. "You know all these names you've been saying—Leaks and Weatherly, and so on—Mammy used to tell me that I had people belonging to me named that. But she said she had moved about so much that they didn't know where to find me. I don't want to

HER PRAISE

Mrs. Louis Brock Tells Why Marjorie Deserves Love and Care.

BY MRS. LOUIS BROCK.

Washington, D. C., May 24.—[Special.] "WHAT is the secret of your life?" asked Mrs. Brownings of Charles Kingsley. "Tell me, what I may make mine beautiful, too."

She replied: "I have a friend." This was inducted with a letter to me written by little Marjorie "Delbridge," who from now on will be known as Marjorie Leak Weatherly. It did my heart good to read it and I am the happiest woman in Chicago today because this child has been claimed by her people and has come into her own.

The person who remarked that mine was "misplaced sympathy" should have seen the tears of gratitude in the eyes of this kind man who is spending south with Marjorie. Sympathy for a little child is never misplaced.

I feel very happy because this child calls me "friend." I have faith in her and know she is good. I found her the most delightful little girl I have ever known.

Washington, D. C., May 24.—[Special.] Announcement was made today that enlistments for the navy and marine corps from now on will be for the period of the war instead of for the regular enlistments term of the naval and marine corps establishments. It is expected to stimulate recruiting.

She hugged Mr. Leak, who laughed and wiped his spectacles again. Then the train puffed into the station and they got aboard.

DRILL STUMBLIES AT FT. SHERIDAN, BUT NEVER FAILS

Officers and Men Rise Superior to Shortage of Equipment.

Fort Sheridan, Ill., May 24.—Obstacles of many varieties—shortages and delays due to war conditions—are encountered daily in the work of Fort Sheridan's reserve officers' training camp. As fast as they arise they are met by two factors that are going far toward overcoming them. These factors are, first, the resourcefulness of the regular army instructors, and, second, the determination of the 5,000 candidates for commissions. The lack of various things is not pointed out in a complaining way. The men's spirit is admirable. They realize the difficulties Uncle Sam has to meet.

Salute with Bayonet.

The advance step in teaching today was the saber drill. No sabers had been issued. Imagine a United States army officer saluting with a bayonet! That is what was done by every one of the prospective officers training here.

Another instance of the shortage of equipment is the lack of an issue of regulation semaphore flags—insignia having squares of cloth split diagonally into red and white and mounted on short handles. Semaphore drill has been proceeding a week—most of it without flags of any sort. This morning some red and white ones were sold by a private store, but the supply soon was exhausted.

There still is a large amount of clothing and shoes missing.

There is a shortage of labor. The mounts of the regular army officers are due here soon, but there isn't a man in the camp available to care for them. The lack of music leaves deficiency. One officer today said that for three days he makes the long hike from his company barracks to his bachelor quarters on the far side of the reservation. That is nonproductive work. It wastes time of the instructors and leaves their commands alone too much.

For two days bayonet drills have been given. No instruction sheets were issued because the quartermaster's office is unable to obtain mimeograph ink.

Need More Officers.

Cap. John A. Peaton of the Eighth Illinois Infantry announced six promotions yesterday. The men promoted are: Second Lieut. L. L. Jackson, to first lieutenant; Private Michael H. Brown, Jr., first lieutenant Company F; Private Benote Lee, second lieutenant Company E; Private Oliver M. Polk, second company C; Sgt. William C. Phillips, second lieutenant, machine gun company; Sgt. Harry L. Allen, second lieutenant Company H.

Plans for the recreation program are going ahead rapidly. Athletic teams are being organized. Practice baseball games begin Saturday.

DAWES TO HOLD PURSE OF RAIL ARMY IN FRANCE

Head of Central Trust Offered Post with U. S. Engineers.

Charles G. Dawes, president of the Central Trust company, has been offered, and it is understood he will accept, membership on a commission which will go to France for the purpose of managing and reconstructing railroads. The head of the commission is Samuel M. Falton, president of the Chicago Great Western.

Mr. Dawes has been in the east and was reached by THE TRIBUNE early this morning at Buffalo, en route to Chicago. He said any information regarding the plans would have to come from Mr. Falton.

Mr. Dawes is understood, is to have charge of the expenditures made under the commission, including all outlays in the reconstruction of the roads. It has been reported that Mr. Falton will have about 40,000 men, and in action 30,000, and the idea is to have the French army in the lead.

Mr. Dawes' friends a few days ago said that if the appointment were tendered him at Washington he would accept it. He thought it afforded him an opportunity to serve France, the United States, and the allies in general in the war. He announced that his bank and the corporations in which he is especially interested are in excellent financial condition and he did not hesitate to take a temporary leave of absence.

Another instance of the shortage of equipment is the lack of an issue of regulation semaphore flags—insignia having squares of cloth split diagonally into red and white and mounted on short handles. Semaphore drill has been proceeding a week—most of it without flags of any sort. This morning some red and white ones were sold by a private store, but the supply soon was exhausted.

There still is a large amount of clothing and shoes missing.

There is a shortage of labor. The mounts of the regular army officers are due here soon, but there isn't a man in the camp available to care for them. The lack of music leaves deficiency.

One officer today said that for three days he makes the long hike from his company barracks to his bachelor quarters on the far side of the reservation. That is nonproductive work. It wastes time of the instructors and leaves their commands alone too much.

For two days bayonet drills have been given. No instruction sheets were issued because the quartermaster's office is unable to obtain mimeograph ink.

Parading Visits Wilson.

Gen. John J. Pershing, who will command the division of regular army veterans to be sent to France "at the earliest practicable moment," called at the White House today and paid his respects to President Wilson.

As commander in chief of the army and commander in chief of the regular army, Pershing has final instructions regarding the part the American contingent is to play in the great world war in Europe.

To Indiana falls the honor of being the first large state to pass the quota allotted for enlistments in the regular army. The Hoosier state was asked to provide 5,400 men. Yesterday the state's total was 5,439. With a quota of 1,344 to raise, Oregon has reported 1,690. Utah has reported 1,000 and had provided 961; while Nevada, with a quota of 102, has enlisted 430. Illinois' total is 8,222 of its quota of 11,276.

THE men in Almer Coe eyeglass service, in workshop and store, like to make their skill count.

They like to feel that they are helping to make somebody's eyeglasses a success for them. This thought behind their work finds them a place in the Almer Coe organization.

That makes Almer Coe service pleasing, as well as safe.

PEASANTS VOTE LOYAL SUPPORT TO NEW RUSSIA

Recognition of Ministry is Announced by Council of Deputies.

PETROGRAD, May 23 [via London, May 24].—The council of ministers decided today to award a resolution supporting the present government and recognizing the ministry as its own representatives. M. Karsky, minister of war, has issued appeals for discipline in the army and is himself speaking to one regiment after another, even walking to the railway station with the reserves starting to the front. An effort is to be made to exert some control over the soldiers who are to be admitted within the front zone only by the military committee.

Men in the immediate rear are full of agitators and the simple soldiers too often take the line of least resistance. The soldier is a peasant and when he hears that the land is being divided up naturally he fears to lose his share.

Desertions Are Lessening.
Desertions, however, are at last lessening, which may be taken as a sign of growing understanding in the army. Lynching is growing in frequency because of the number of horse thieves. Meanwhile fraternalism on the front is growing in some respects.

"Speedy reconstruction of Russia's fighting forces" is promised by Minister of Foreign Affairs Terschenko in a telegram sent today to Premier Ribot of France.

Russian democracy believes this war was necessary and inevitable for the defense of the liberty of nations," the telegram said. "This is the opinion of the government and the entire nation, which is now conscious of its duty and will proceed with all speed to reconstruct the fighting forces of Russia to accomplish the task shared in common with our valiant brothers of the allied armies."

Russian Soldiers Ask Transfer.
SEBASTOPOL, via London, May 24.—The officers and men of the local garrison have unanimously requested that they be transferred to the 20th regiment of the Germans. Their action is in response to the speech of Minister of War Kerensky.

GOMPERS SHUNS STOCKHOLM BID

Washington, D. C., May 24.—Another effort to get Americans to participate in peace parleys at Stockholm failed today when President Gompers of the American Federation of Labor declined an invitation to send delegates to a Stockholm trade union congress to discuss the claims of labor in connection with the war.

The congress will meet simultaneously with the Socialist peace conference, on which the state department has put its stamp of disapproval by refusing passports to Americans expecting to participate and by warning citizens that such participation would be in violation of the law.

Milwaukee Socialists Oust Pair of Patriots

Milwaukee, Wis., May 24.—[Special].—Because they were too outspoken in their pro-American attitude and because they criticized the Socialist party for its pro-German action here and at the St. Louis convention, two prominent members have been expelled from the Socialist party. They were Winfield R. Gaylord and A. M. Simons.

"The expulsion of Mr. Gaylord and myself," Mr. Simons said, "is a formal warning that our own who would be close allies to the United States than to the Hobbies, or to socialism rather than autocracy, is not welcome in the Milwaukee Socialist party."

OFFICIAL STATEMENT ISSUED BY VARIOUS NATIONS AT WAR

ITALIAN FRONT.

ITALIAN. HOME, May 24.—On the Corso yesterday, after two hours of violent bombardment, the gallant troops of the Third army assaulted and broke through the well organized lines of the enemy from Castagnavina to the sea.

While we were heavily engaging the enemy on the left our troops, after carrying enemy trenches in the center and on the right, occupied parts of the area south of the Castagnavina-Boscomalo road, passed Boscomalo, and captured Jamiano, the important and strongly fortified heights Hill 92, one kilometer east of Pietrasanta; Hill 77, Hill 58, Bagni, and Hill 21.

The enemy, at first surprised and disorganized by the sudden onslaught, but toward evening he counter attacked in force, supported by exceptionally heavy bombardment. He was repulsed with severe loss.

During the day we captured more than 9,000 prisoners, including more than 500 officers.

An aerial squadron consisting of 180 machines, including a group of 100 bombers, made a series of bombs on the enemy's lines and brought their machine guns to bear on masses of the enemy. Our airmen all returned safely.

The British batteries which are on our front as well as the brotherly cooperation of our ally, made a large contribution to the artillery preparation. Our naval guns also proved very effective.

The Gorizia and our troops repulsed heavy enemy attacks, capturing a strong point on the north-west slopes of San Marco, and, after severe fighting, made considerable progress in the Monte Santo and Vodice areas.

FRENCH FRONT.

BRITISH. LONDON, May 24.—A bold raid started early this morning in the neighborhood of Armentières was driven off with loss by our machine gun fire.

AVIATION. The activity in the air increased yesterday. A number of flights occurred in which five German machines were brought down by our airplanes. Six other hostile machines were driven down out of control. Three of our airplanes are missing.

DAY STATEMENT.

We secured a few prisoners during the night as the result of patrol encounters east of Le Verguer. Nothing else interesting occurred.

FRENCH. PARIS, May 24.—There is nothing to report except aerial fighting at times violent, in the regions of Mou-

BANKERS HELD; SHORTAGE MAY GO TO $700,000

Two Under Arrest While Third Is Sought by Hoynes.

HUNTED BANKER

Man Sought by Hoynes to Explain Alleged Shortage

Mark P. Bransfield

heard one man in the bank tell another that a check was presented at the Auburn bank which could not be met for lack of funds.

He referred this to Mr. Ellis and as a result the examination was started and the bank closed.

While waiting in the Harrison street station to have their bonds approved by Judge Graham, McFarland and Cline consented to talk with a Tribune reporter.

"I can't say much, because I am representing the wishes of the state bank examiner, who asked me not to place any estimate on the financial condition of the bank," McFarland said. "I will say that the depositors are solvent and that the bank's depositors will not lose anything."

He was pressed for some statement about the charges that forged mortgages were placed in the bank, presumably as assets.

Calls Story Incorrect.

"The information, Mr. Hoynes has received is incorrect," McFarland said, unperturbed. "There have been misstatements. I can account for it in no other way. I know everything that was in the bank, and there were no forged mortgages nor fake securities there."

He was then asked about his relations with the Drexel Motor Car company.

"I can't say anything just now about my relations with the Drexel Motor Car company. I have an attorney who is representing me."

"I haven't time. It's a long story, and I would have to tell it all to make it clear. It wouldn't be proper for me to talk about it now."

"How about Bransfield's relations with the Bransfield-Billing's Piano Action company of Saginaw, Mich.?"

"I can't talk about that either," he answered.

"Nemesis" Makes Statement.

A. J. Farmer, one of McFarland holds responsible for starting the trouble in the bank's financial affairs because, McFarland states, he was ousted as president of the Drexel Motor Car corporation came to the Tribune office yesterday and made this statement:

Bransfield and McFarland, as individuals and not for the bank, bought $25,000 worth of stock in the Drexel Motor Car company, and the certificates of stock were issued to them, as the books will show. The automobile company also borrowed from the Auburn bank $12,000 and $14,000 on a demand note.

"They may have ousted me a week ago. I deny their legal right to do this. They have taken no active part in the direction of the bank. They put me out. I am the inventor of the motor in the car, designer of the car, president of the company, and its manager."

"What are the assets of the company, its capitalization, and how much stock has been sold?" Mr. Farmer was asked.

Says Assets Are $400,000.

"The assets of the company are worth alone more than $400,000," he said, "but as to the stock I can't say, for we sold a lot of it and have a lot more unsold."

How William Dugdale, the most market man who fished at the eleventh hour and drew out all his money, afterward "spoke" to friends to do the same, his information was revealed to a reporter yesterday. With a sly glance he said:

"I've a son-in-law who was a teller in the Morgan Park bank."

The business men of the vicinity, the two banks being only a little more than a mile apart, rallied to the support of McFarland and Bransfield yesterday.

Friends Rally to Aid.

It is understood that state officials were of the opinion last night that the Auburn bank would have been able to Acting on Hynes' suggestion a committee was named consisting of Otto Miller, 7000 Halsted street; P. J. Cody, 7000 South Sixty-third street; William McFarland, 300 West Sixty-third street; C. H. Rainey, 7000 South Halsted street; and C. G. Gosseling, 2121 Indiana avenue. They will meet this afternoon in Cosmopolitan hall, when a resolution of confidence voted for Bransfield and McFarland will be ready.

Police Bar Examiner.

McFarland, east of and above rolled up, was virtually prisoner in the Auburn bank at 3 o'clock yesterday afternoon.

A dozen policemen, told to arrest him and to let no one in or out, were there under orders from Mr. Hoynes, attorney for H. H. Ellis, state bank examiner.

When he returned he found the glass gates and their mother and the family last night. McFarland two hours ago had eaten at the Little Sixty.

An old man with military carriage,

gray mustache, and a mighty star

stout guard. He said he was a pri-ivate policeman.

"Mr. McFarland made a great success for a man as young," said a neighbor. "He was only 45 and he'd worked himself up from a cook driver.

He owned a fine farm which he sold for the colors.

Two or three weeks ago officials of the railway notified Capt. Thomas L.

Porter of the United States secret service that denunciations of President Wilson by pro-Germans among the shop employees endangered the peace.

Peter G. Drauburg, secret service operative, investigated. Instead of resorting to arrests he made impromptu speeches to the men to keep the peace and loyalty to the United States. His oratory had flattered results.

Yesterday Drauburg received a delegate representing both sides of the war about the war.

"Peace has been restored and everybody is in Uncle Sam's," said the spoke-man, who had been of the pro-German forces. "We have bought a flagpole and a fine American flag which we want to put up in the yards. But we want to do it with style. Will you help?"

Drauburg agreed to help. He hurried forth, got hold of Col. Sanborn and told him the story. The colonel became enthusiastic and started plans for participation. Fifteen automobiles, loaned by the Navy league, will convey the soldiers and band to the scene.

Mr. Felt addressed the meeting, saying: "These young men scattered their money too much and are having a hard time getting it together, but everything will work out all right. They have good securities. The Drexel Motor Car corporation, in which they are interested, will close a contract with the corporation of lost-sharks and private banks.

REFUGEES

Wife and Four Children of Banker in Cell Flew City.

Two little boys and two little girls and their mother, the family of the banker, left Chicago after the explosion last night. Flew home two hours ago in a "wing" of an imposing apartment building at 8005 Aberdeen street, was dark. Hardly a bit of baggage was taken along.

The crib that the baby had slept in just before it was snatched up stood upright from its place in the center of the floor. The children, only 12 years old, helped usher out the little baby.

MARTYR NURSE'S BODY IS HOME, LIES UNDER FLAG

SHRAPNEL

More than 150 members of the Illinois Athletic club have enlisted in the I.A.C. reserves, organized for the purpose of drill and personal preparation. Drill is held on Monday and Friday nights.

More than 125 men employed in the Chicago post office will be transferred from night to day duty because they are members of the national guard or some other military organization. The change has been made to allow the men opportunity for drill.

Board of Honor Takes the Casket of Miss Wood to Evanston.

Members of honor representing the Red Cross and the medical officers' reserve were present last night when the body of Miss Helen Burnett Wood, one of the nurses killed on the way to France, was taken from a New York express train and transferred to the car that took it to Evanston. The body of Mrs. Edith Ayres, who was buried at the same time, was taken to Chicago.

Hon. Draped Over Casket.

The American flag was draped over the casket when it was taken from the car and stood on the casket by Miss Wood, widow of the Red Cross nurse.

Twenty-two members of the White Sox baseball team fulfilled their initial duty to the government by registering in the radio section of the United States signal corps. He reported to Maj. Leon W. Williams, chief signal officer for the central department, and will have charge of recruiting for the radio service, two companies of which have been formed here.

Walter McGuire, former chief of police of Lake Forest, who served six years in the navy, having achieved the rank of warrant officer, has been appointed gunner in the naval reserves with the rank and pay of warrant officer.

Warrant officers were: Capt. John A. Johnson and Thomas J. O'Malley; John E. Chapman, executive secretary of the Red Cross; Dr. Arthur Edwards, of the medical school of Northwestern University; Dr. J. Augustus O'Brien, president of the Chicago Medical Society; and William R. Buchanan.

Those Present.

Ninety-five were present. The committee represented the medical officers' reserve, Maj. A. A. St. John, Lt. M. J. O'Farrell, J. O'Conor, Dr. L. Charles E. Williamson, Dr. Thomas J. O'Malley, Nelson W. Williams, Lt. Col. W. W. Wilbur Post, Lt. J. Dearing, Lt. H. H. Scott, and Lt. John Dillon. The Red Cross was represented by John W. Chapman, John W. Scott, Minnie Adams, and William R. Buchanan.

The funeral is to take place at 3 p.m. today at the First Presbyterian Church, Evanston. The Rev. D. H. Jones will officiate.

UNITED POWER ON CENSORSHIP FOR PRESIDENT?

Washington, D. C., May 24.—[Special.] Chairman Webb of the house conference committee on the espionage bill said today that the committee probably would report a compromise tomorrow on the censorship provision.

The compromise will follow closely the McCormick amendment in the house. The Thomas-Cunningham amendment in the Senate, he declared. These amendments specifically mention that the newspapers may not print in reference to any information, but do not give to the president the entire power of censorship.

In addition to the substitute, juries will determine whether publication of censored material was with deliberate intent to aid the enemy. The house committee is consistent with such a provision, of the Gandy amendment, shall be.

The ultimate outcome in congress still remained doubtful. There apparently is no chance of administration success in the house than the senate. Administrators had at the capital said tonight. Should the house accept the compromise proposed by the conferees, it is expected that several senators who were against censorship are prepared to change.

Library Makes New Appeal for Books to Send Soldiers

The Chicago public library has issued a new appeal to the people of the city to give books to the soldiers on duty. The library automobile will call for the books and pack them into sets and then these are turned over to the Y. M. C. A. which distributes them to the soldiers. The movement has been approved by the red cross and it is hoped that a large number will be given the men.

U.S. BARS ALIEN ENEMIES FROM LOOP, "YARDS"

Chicago's loop district yesterday became, within the meaning of the president's order, a "restricted district" within a half mile of whose limits an alien enemy must not approach or reside without proper credentials under penalty of arrest and detention.

Another large area is that about the Union stock yards. United States Marshal Bradley informed all executives of the stock yards that this district has been declared a restricted zone. The regulations which will apply after June 1 are as follows:

"An alien enemy shall not approach or be found within one-half a mile of any federal or state fort, camp, arsenal, aircraft station, government, or navy vessel, navy yard, factory, or workshop for the manufacture of munitions of war or any products for the use of the army or navy."

Marshal Bradley therefore has designated restricted zones about the federal building, all recruiting stations, all plants devoted to the production of war supplies, the Ashburn aviation field, and all government ships in the harbor.

CAUTION TO EMPLOYERS.

Washington, D. C., May 24.—[Special.] Official caution was given today by the government against dismissed by employers of alien laborers who have not completed their naturalization.

"Such act is contrary to the spirit of the president's proclamation of April 6, which definitely promises to law abiding citizens freedom to pursue their occupations," the statement says. "The justice of our war measures should be matched by the courtesy with which we treat in our private relations the aliens who live among us."

N. W. U. TO ACCEPT PATTEN BRONZES ON ALUMNI DAY

Two heroic bronze groups, the gift of James A. Patten to Northwestern university, will be formally received by the university on Alumni day, June 12. Mr. and Mrs. Patten will be honored guests. Mr. Herman MacNeil, the sculptor who designed the statuary; President Thomas E. Holgate, and Wirt E. Humphrey, president of the Alumni association, will accept the gift for the university.

The groups have been erected on pedestals flanking the main entrance to the gymnasium, an ornamental classical statue. On the left pedestal is an athlete, standing, holding a spear. At his feet is a fallen adversary. This group is dedicated to athletics.

Twenty-two members of the White Sox baseball team fulfilled their initial duty to the government by registering in Springfield this morning of May 14, the day of the draft. The men whose names are now listed away are Harry Leibold, George Weaver, Edward Collins, Joseph Jackson, Oscar Felsch, Arnold Gandy, Ray Schalk, Alvin Russell, James Scott, W. W. Local Call in Employees.

Chicago Clerks Remained. William Gleason, Joseph Bentz, and Edward Cottone did not register, as they are past the specified age. Because of their athletic life and daily military drills the ball terrors lay claim to "super" physical fitness.

All registrars who have offered their services to the county received instructions from Sheriff Traeger detailing them to their respective polling places.

Names of the persons whose places of business are used as polling places in the city have signified their willingness to allow the government free space on

FLAG DAY

Gov. Lowden Asks Everybody to Wear the American Emblem on June 14.

SPRINGFIELD, Ill., May 24.—Declaring that the American flag and the principles for which it stands are now being assailed by the mighty forces of autocracy, Gov. Frank R. Lowden today issued a proclamation setting Thursday, June 14, as Flag day. The governor's proclamation reads as follows:

"In compliance with custom, I hereby set apart Thursday, June 14, 1917, as

"FLAG DAY."

"This has been but a flag day in our history so significant as this. Our flag and the principles for which it stands are now assailed by the mighty forces of autocracy. Let us show in this flag day that we are heart and soul for that flag and that there is no price too high for it. Let us let it float in the sky. Let us on Flag day from our public buildings, our homes, our places of business, and our houses, let us all men, women, and children—wear a small flag in honor of the day."

"Given under my hand and the seal of the state at the capitol in Springfield this 14th day of May in the year of our Lord, 1917."

"Edward G. Lowden, Governor."

AN OPEN LETTER TO CHICAGO

By JAMES HOWARD KEHLER

I know you are busy. But George Washington was not too busy to give eight years of his life without pay in order that we might have what we enjoy today. Will you give two minutes to reading this story of what another great American has done to make America forever impregnable? Here it is.

EDWIN MARKHAM, the distinguished patriot, poet and inspired author of "The Man with the Hoe," has given the best years of his life, and the very flower of his genius, to the preparation of thirteen remarkable volumes called

"THE REAL AMERICA IN ROMANCE"

He has really accomplished what the historians of all ages have tried to do—he has given to history the form and the interest of fiction.

These are magic volumes. Nothing except the wonder tales of Scott and Dumas can bear comparison with them—considered simply as stories. Yet these stories are true. And they constitute the only true, complete and consecutive history of any country ever written in the form of historical novels—an entirely unique performance—one of the great literary exploits of all time!

HISTORY HUMANIZED!

These thrilling, throbbing romances compel both reading and remembrance. They give you the story of America as though you yourself had been both actor and spectator in every dramatic incident of your country's history.

The only basis for real Americanism is this real story of what it has cost in heroic sacrifice, in noble manhood and womanhood, to establish and maintain this free republic—of what it has meant to build a commonwealth which has become—in only four centuries from savagery—the marvel amongst the nations and keeper of the world's hope of liberty!

Our fathers and grandfathers knew the history of our country—they helped to make it—and they loved the thing for which they had sacrificed so much. Never until these books were written has there been a chance for us or our children to re-live the history of our country—to burn with the same emotions that fired our fathers to live heroic lives and—when the need came—to die as heroically as they had lived.

THE STORY MUST BE LEARNED

The young people, the school boys and girls of this generation, must be given the thrill and throb of this great, true story of America if they are to continue the American tradition.

And the story of America must not only be learned—but remembered—if democracy is to persist. The story will be learned and remembered only insofar as the facts are made interesting through the medium of great art. Edwin Markham's art has made the facts unforgettable.

SCHOOLS DO NOT TEACH IT

Schools do not teach history with a thrill in it! They teach facts, but for every fact of our romantic history there is a human story of absorbing interest—a story of love, sacrifice and achievement to make the blood run faster and to quicken pride of citizenship. That is the great triumph of Mr. Markham's books—they have given to facts the glow and glamour of fiction.

YOUR OPPORTUNITY AND MINE

These are books of destiny—and it is your privilege and mine to share in their great destiny. The books are not on trial. They have succeeded! Sixty thousand real Americans have already bought them.

Edwin Markham is not on trial. He has given to America the greatest national epic ever penned regarding this or any other country—a literary heritage for which generations yet unborn will hold him in grateful memory.

It is we who are on trial—you and I. What are we going to do about it? Just insofar as we can get the message of these books into the homes and schools and hearts of America will this nation remain impregnable to foes from within or without. Is this worth doing?

HOW WE CAN HELP

One patriotic Chicagoan has already given more than fifty sets to children's institutions, schools and colleges. Every school in America should have these books now. No teacher's equipment is complete without them. If you want to do something big, start a movement today to get these books into the schools.

THROUGH THE PULPIT

Every pastor of a church in America should have the books at once—and should preach from them, as he would be glad to do. The calls upon the average pastor's income are very heavy. It is difficult for many preachers to buy all of the books they need. Here is a big opportunity for some one who wants to spread the gospel of real Americanism through the pulpit.

AT THE FRONT

No army unit—no naval vessel—no training camp—should be without enough of these books to give every man in the service the entertainment and inspiration they afford. If you have a boy in the service, the greatest thing you can do for him and his comrades is to send him these books.

DO THIS FIRST

These are only suggestions—there are plenty of other ways to help. If you will read even one of these books yourself you will see opportunities for service all around you. No matter how good an American you are, these books will make you a better one. And you will want to share with others your own great uplift and inspiration. First buy the books for yourself—then help others to get them.

The opportunity is limited only by the population!

STATE CURTAINS BUILDING PLANS BECAUSE OF WAR

Increased Cost and Other Reasons for Money Cause
the Decision.

BY E. O. PHILLIPS.
SPRINGFIELD, Ill., May 24.—(Special)—
The legislature today abandoned any potential building additions in the state institutions or departments of all kinds that have arisen since the war, increased cost of all kinds, and the pressing requirements of the state itself led to the decision.

Associated with this determination is the exclusion from the special excise taxes that $1,000,000 of the provision that $1,000,000 of the University of Illinois building fund be raised annually shall not be paid to the general school fund.
The second $1,000,000 was to have been paid to the general school fund in the event that there was a marked surplus in the fees that shall be requested to be paid to the state treasury by the state and foreign corporations and other receipts shall go to the general school fund.

Action on Bank Bill.
The Cook-Austin state-wide private bank bill was up on third reading in the house, but could not be voted on for action on a motion made by Representative Lewis of Springfield that consideration be postponed until Tuesday.
The motion was agreed to by friends of the bill led by Representative De Young, who offered the agreed amendment to the bill last night. The amendment was to clarify the practical working of the bill from the standpoint of the banking department.

The bill, directed against the loan debt already passed by the house, was in third reading in the senate.
Senator Dailey introduced a senate bill that would permit manufacturers whose plants are located in dry territory, under a local option law, to sell direct to consumers in case lots for bottled goods, so not less than eight for barrels.

"Birth of Nation" Bill Passed.
The house passed a new bill substituting for the Jackson measure, vetoed by Governor, one that eliminates the right to race hatted "limes" from the state bill. This is the so-called "Birth of Nation" bill, concerning moving of national defense.

Representative McCarthy's bill to make uniform fees of justices of the peace and police magistrates in Cook county was passed by the house. This is of intense importance to automobile men who are exposed to fines.
The Balliburg bill to permit Chicago to obtain a municipal farm in connection with the house of correction was vetoed by the governor. Senator Frazee, W.
V., who permitted the city to use public land within the city limits, meaning no more.

PACKERS LAUNCH $100,000 FIRM IN SOUTH AMERICA

Several packers of Chicago, headed by George Armour, have joined with a group of New York capitalists allied with the National City bank, to enter the cattle and leather business in South America, according to statements coming from New York yesterday. The new company, known as International Products company, has a capital of $1,000,000.

George N. Armour nor any of his associates would discuss the matter last night. It is stated, however, that Charles W. Perkins is president, William
A. Edwards chairman of the board, Gerald P. Bisselberg vice president and

"As for the wonderful books of the Encyclopaedia—they are simply treasures! When I was offered to compete for the position I now hold, I studied up every reference to the subject of dredge and hydraulic mining therein, with the result that I passed 87% on all the

The time has come when you must decide and order. That is the whole story.
Today there is no use in telling you what the Britannica is, how valuable it will be to you in your work, what an advantage it will give you and your family to own it.
You know now whether you want it or not. There is only one thing left for you to consider—will you order or not?

Unless you order NOW you will NEVER be able to buy the Britannica printed on genuine India paper. Because there is no more India paper for printing the Britannica. And no more can be made—war makes it impossible to import the flax and hemp for making India paper.

If you KNOW you want the Britannica, sign the "Reserve" Order Form in the corner of this announcement, attach a dollar bill to it and mail it just as quickly as you can.

If you are almost sure you need the Britannica, but want to be positive before you order, go to the store named here and ask to see the entire set. If the books convince you that the Britannica will be useful and helpful to you, leave your order in the store and make your first payment of $1.00. The entire 29 volumes will be sent you at once and you will have them to use and profit by while you pay for them.

This advertisement, in order to reach the newspapers of the Extreme East, West and South had to be prepared and sent out ten days ago. At that time we estimated that the remaining sets of the "Handy Volume" Britannica—the last in the entire world—would take care of all orders mailed us on or before Saturday, May 26th. But orders have been increasing so rapidly that the last set may be gone before this.

BUT—Do not let this possibility delay you. Send your order TODAY! Every minute now is precious if you are really anxious to own and profit by the knowledge the Britannica will bring you.

(If the last set is sold before your order is received, your money will be returned to you immediately.)

LOOSE HEAVE WINS FOR SOX IN 12 INNINGS

Erratic Shot by Dumont Spells Defeat for the Senators, 1-0.

BY I. E. SANBORN.

A wild pitch in the last half of the twelfth inning terminated in the White Sox's favor yesterday one of the most brilliant defensive battles ever fought on Comiskey park. Score: Chicago, 1; Washington, 0.

Said wild pitch was very wild. It scored a run from second base. It was emitted by a person named Dumont, who flings from the right side and who promised to pitch Tex Russell to an absolute standstill until he precipitated his own downfall by shooting a fast one past Henry to the grand stand with Joe Jackson on the Keystone sack waiting, as many runners on both sides had waited before, for the timely hit that never came.

Double Plays Frequent.

Center fielders and double plays were largely responsible for the runlessness of the contest. Both slabmen were hit hard in places, but were given phenomenal support. Both Felsch and Milan made miraculously captures of terrific wallops that would have produced winning results. Five double plays, three of them by the senators, snuffed out all chances to score. In fact, the home team of the two games this last portion of the season opened with the same number of double openings that had been awaiting on each side.

Russell outpitched his slab opponent, although in actual base hits Dumont had the advantage. Dumont was tagged safely only eight times to eleven against the Texan. But Russell had perfect control at all times. Not a man walked to first, or came anywhere near it. Twice Dumont passed White Sox batters. Russell's support wavered in spots, while Dumont was perfect in every detail. That means Russell had to pitch himself out of more tight places than Dumont did. He was equal to every occasion.

Russell Strong on Attack.

Besides, Russell was the feature of the White Sox offense. He muscled out two that were safe, one for three bases, and another that ought to have been at least a triple, but Milan tore across the left center and made a sensational running catch of it. Twice Russell stood on third base as the result of his own bat and good legs, and twice his teammates failed to score him.

Three times Russell was in deep water with a runner on third, but Leibold struck out and Weaver popped. Again in the sixth the Rowlands threatened to copy. A triple hit, but had outrageously robbed Jameson. Leibold walked and went to third on a single to Weaver. Again Collins hit into a double play.

Double Play Saves Sox.

Russell whaled out his triple with one gone in the third, but Leibold struck out and Weaver popped. Again in the sixth the Rowlands threatened to copy. A triple hit, but had outrageously robbed Jameson. Leibold walked and went to third on a single to Weaver. Again Collins hit into a double play.

Russell was in trouble in the seventh when Milan singled and went to third on Rice's single before a man was out. Shanks merely popped to Jackson back of short and Morgan rapped to Risher for a double play. A single and a wild throw by Weaver put the Senators on second, and first with one out in the ninth, but the run did not go over. Neither did it in the twelfth when Milan led with a single and was sacrificed to second.

The Sox were stopped almost to a standstill in the later rounds, so when Jackson cracked a single to right in the last of the twelfth there was no great enthusiasm. Felsch sacrificed Joe to second and Gandy was up when Dumont hit the off and shot past Henry to the plate. Jackson was home from second on it, barely beating Henry's return throw to the plate.

BEAN BALL HARD BY RUMBLE OF COMMISSION

BY JOHN ALCOCK.

A rule which prevents the elimination of the "bean ball" was enacted yesterday by the National commission. The commission adopted a proposal which would expel any pitcher found to be the intimidator.

A player expelled by the commission is barred from baseball for five years. At the time his case is not over, he may not be a member of any league club affiliated with a major league club, or with the American League, or with the National League, or with the International League.

President Ban Johnson of the American league was the author of the legislation. The proposal was introduced by Manager Mitchell, who recently ordered his players to use the "bean ball" to test the effectiveness of rival pitchers.

Johnson's attention was drawn to the effectiveness of rival pitchers by a player who shortly before his case was decided.

Johnson's action was supported by the American League when he heard of the criticism his action received from President Tener of the National League.

Gerry Herrmann, secretary of the commission, did not side with Johnson.

DARCY LOSES HIS ONE FIGHT ON OUR SHORES

Handed Slacker, Marvel of Ring Dies After Enlisting as Airman.

Memphis, Tenn., May 24.—Les Darcy, the Australian pugilist, died at a hospital this afternoon from pneumonia. He had been ill more than a month.

Darcy died about 1:45 o'clock. Manager Gillies and Trainer Hawkins were at the bedside. Darcy's mother immediately went to the dead man's widow in Australia. The body will be sent home pending instructions from her.

Darcy enlisted in the aviation reserve corps here shortly before he was taken ill.

At that time he was pronounced by Capt. Christie, officer in charge of the corps, as the most perfect specimen of a recruit that had applied for enlistment in the corps.

Held Two Australian Titles.

Darcy was born in Maitland, Australia, and became a professional pugilist when Mick Hearn discovered him to amateur tournaments. He won the lightweight and heavyweight championships of Australia.

He came to the United States in December when it was planned to match him with Georges Carpenter, but the fight could not leave France. Then an arrangement was made to stage a match between Darcy and Al McCoy, who claims the middleweight championship. This was abandoned when the New York State commission decided McCoy must be with the conduct of the match when he heard of the death of his son.

With his advice to the Cuban leader, Turner, of the National Committee, Darcy did not side with Mitchell.

THE SILENT PARTNER
Produced by Loew's
Directed by Marshall Neilan.
Cast: Blanche Sweet, Edward Roche, Thomas Meighan, Harry Wilson, George Robert, David Pfeiffer, Ernest Joy, Billie Dove, Madeline Hurlock, Mrs. Preston, Florence Vidor, Mrs. Wilson, Mayme Koenig.

By Miss Tinker.

A GLANCE at the above cast will convince you that at least good acting is a feature of "The Silent Partner," Blanche Sweet's last starring vehicle for Paramount. Also it will assure you that all the characters are personable. No need to close one eye or put on rose colored spectacles for any of them. For while we trust that you are properly grateful for the picture's agreeable one, and altogether it may be said that this picture is to be classed as among the best of Loew's regular program features.

The silent partner (Olin Sweet) is a business man's secretary. She is loyal, conscientious, and nice. She brings to his attention the fact that his partner, the silent partner, is represented to resign, which he does, mentally vowing revenge.

Both Royle, the honest partner, and Wilson, the dishonest one, are in love with Edith Preston, who decides in favor of Royle, who has more money. She, however, loves Wilson—whom she does not know to be already married to a clammy person whom he pays $15,000 a throw to keep out of her way. (Whom would then keep out of her way? I! Anybody?)

Anyhow, he almost ruins Royle financially, does take his wife—which is a good thing—but in the long run proves an angel in disguise, to his own undulated astonishment and disgust, for the silent partner steps in when ruin seems imminent, avers it, and finds himself Royle, who rides away with her in a motor, to which are attached diamonds, old shoes, and the customary embarrassments of newly married fidelity.

A funny little office boy furnishes the needed comedy touch and the captions contain only one misspelled word.

Puzzle: Find it.

COMMENT

On either Sunday or Monday morning press reports differ—whether he will come to our town, where he will appear at the various theaters and be interviewed by us for you, mezzies permitting. On Tuesday evening at 7:30 he is scheduled to appear at the Castle theater. It is said that should you meet him on the street you will know him by his raiment, for, verily, he will be accoutred in the regular western outfit which has spurred the way into our hearts.

TOWER KEPT TAB ON WIFE BY WAY OF DICTAPHONE

Part of a letter that is alleged to have accidentally found its way into the envelope which also contained a letter addressed to Lawrence Tower, the 19 year old son of Mrs. Lucia K. Tower, who sued for divorce against her husband, Prof. William Lawrence Tower, is on hearing before Justice Paul, was read into the evidence yesterday. The letter is signed by Prof. Tower and apparently was to some one with the initials "J. D. N." It reads: "—and I have had dictaphone records made of her conversation. I have taken a great interest in the case and arguments will be heard."

"I expect to have you as a witness." —W. L. Tower.

During the hearing yesterday, Mrs. Tower said that she never received any of the "Chicken" or "honey bunch" letters supposedly written by a man named "Richard." The letters were written by the professor himself, Mrs. Tower says. Prof. Tower, in his deposition, testified his wife had told him she would deny the letters. Another letter, received by Mrs. Tower while she was in Mexico in 1906, was introduced to show that the first letter of the "honey bunch" had been signed by Attorney D. J. De Wolfe, counsel for the professor, waived further cross-examination and the case was continued until a week from today, when the final arguments will be heard.

OUT SECRETARY OF ILLINOIS LIVE STOCK BOARD

Springfield, Ill., May 24.—[Special.]—The board of livestock commissioners that retires from office with the coming of the new administrative code act on July 1 today suspended Charles A. Lowrey, secretary, for thirty days. Eugene D. Dorrance was directed to make an analysis of the code to find out what changes the administration of E. J. Shanley, Shanley was president of the board during the greater part of the Dunn administration. He comes from La Salle county.

Today's proceedings may be followed by an executive order that will discharge the three members of the board, Dr. L. F. Brown, John M. Quinn, and Rudolph M. McAllister, according to the statement. The action is understood to be an echo of the proceedings started by Attorney General Brumfield directed against the policy of the old board as to the slaughter of lumpy jaw cattle at the stockyards.

EXPERTS AGREE ON EXTENSION OF OGDEN AVENUE

SAYS ROBERTSON SEEKS CONTROL OF MEDICAL BODY

Dr. Pusey's Ticket Accuses Health Head of Politics.

Open Route from Union Park to Lincoln Park.

BY HENRY M. HYDE.

The engineers of the board of local improvements and of the Chicago plan commission have agreed on the plan for the extension of Ogden avenue from Union park to Lincoln park. The new avenue, which is to be carried out of territory now occupied mostly by industrial plants and small businesses, will run diagonally across the north northwest and north sides of the city. At present the northern terminus of Ogden avenue is at Randolph street and Union park, from which point it runs southwest, to and beyond the city limits. Its extension from park to Lincoln park is part of the original Chicago plan, as drawn by Daniel H. Burnham.

The new avenue is completed, now living on the west side will have a quick and easy route to and from Lincoln park and the lake without the present necessity of coming downtown and through the loop or about two sides of a long route on the west and north sides.

Difference of Opinion.
There is some difference of opinion as to how wide the new avenue shall be. The engineers of the Chicago plan think it should be 100 feet in width, which equals that of the newly widened Twelfth street. Some of the experts of the board of local improvements do not feel it necessary to make the new street as wide. An analysis of the probable costs on the new street is being made as a basis for reaching a decision on the matter.

Estimate of the cost of improvement have been made. They are a probable cost of from $4,000,000 to $6,000,000, depending on the exact route of the extension and its relation to certain large and costly buildings.

"It is certain," said M. J. Faherty, president of the board of local improvements, "there are not many users along the route." By slight cost we shall be able to avoid interfering with most of the big factories west of the distance the extension will cut through a district almost made up of small and inexpensive businesses. We feel that the work can be started as soon as possible on more expensive improvements are made.

negative Route.
Starting at Randolph street and Union park, west Ogden avenue now ends at Kildee street, where it will pass under the tracks of the Chicago and Northwestern and other railroads, and continuing in the same direction the new avenue will cross Milwaukee avenue near the intersection of Ogden avenue.

An interesting feature of the extension is the fact that it will cross and give access to Goose Island, a historic and prominent part of the city which has been a part of it for many years. Ogden avenue, extended, will cross the North branch of the river at Twelfth street, and, continuing over Ogden street, will intersect Halsted street just south of Haines. Passing the canal, which forms the east boundary of the island, it will run into a street near the corner of Larabee street.

At the end of the new diagonal will be Lincoln park at about the junction of Wells and Clark and Lincoln avenue.

Other Projects Advanced.
We have practically completed the work of Twelfth street," said Mr. Landis, "the great project for the Michigan avenue front from the lake to Chicago avenue is almost ready to start. We feel that the next step in carrying out the Chicago plan should be direct benefit to the people of the newer west side.

Our engineers and those of the plan commission have been making detailed studies for the project for several months. These studies and plans are practically complete. As soon as they have been completed, we will have them and give everybody a chance to present objections and make suggestions. From the time that the plan may be assured that we are anxious to avoid, as far as possible, interference with existing permanent improvements.

But the board does not make any serious objections to the already has the endorsement of the associations of business men on the northwest side."

Landis Gives Lawyer Miller 10-Year Sentence

John Landis "concluded" yesterday before Attorney John S. Miller to spend 10 years on earth. It was his 70th birthday anniversary of the attorney who defended the Chicago "autocracy" in the famous case which had for one of its premises the nonpayment of the corporation by John Landis to pay a fine of $20,000.

Members of the Wayfarers participated in a dinner at the Middle Club in a room of a legal appeal bound in leather, red leather with a gold seal on it. The seal was a picture of a man in a suit and tie, with the words "Supreme Court of the Wayfarers vs. John S. Miller" on it. The book was open to a page with the title "The Wayfarers confirmed." The book contained jingles and photographs of the Wayfarers at various stages of his life.

CITIZENS WILL AID IN FILLING SHOOP'S CHAIR

Superintendent Denies Talking with Mayor on Appointments.

Charges that Dr. John Dill Robertson, health commissioner, is attempting to gain control of the Chicago Medical society by means of a "medico-political" machine have widened the rift existing between the so-called "highbrows" and "lowbrows" of that organization. Another faction has been formed and its members have been termed the "lowbrows."

The election of officers will be held June 19 and it was reported from a reliable source last night that Dr. Robertson is drumming things up by instructing employes of the health department to canvass for the slate in which he is interested. This is headed by Dr. P. J. H. Farrel and the ticket also includes Dr. C. P. Caldwell, president of the board of directors of the municipal tuberculosis sanitarium; Dr. John Ritter, employed at the sanitarium, and Dr. A. E. Gammie, a former employe of the health department. The ticket has the backing of the "lowbrows."

"Lowbrows" Bolt.
Some of the "lowbrows" have bolted, though, and formed an alliance with the "highbrows." Because of their desertion they are now known as the "lowest brows." Dr. William A. Pusey heads the ticket and his followers are now distributing cards asking support for their "united membership ticket."

Prevent the attempted control of the Chicago Medical society.
"The selection of a superintendent," said Mr. Pond, "should be ultimately in the board of education. But I should like to see a commission to select a number of candidates. It should consist of two superintendents whose positions are such that the Chicago job would have no appeal to them; two normal school men of national reputation, and two men who are at the head of educational departments of universities. I believe the board is following out the right idea in going after the best man available for the position in the country."

Statement from Superintendent.
Mr. Shoop's statement follows:

"Since the election of the mayor I have visited his office three times. Once was to ask him to provide over a meeting at which ex-President Taft was to speak; once to introduce to him the mayor of another city who wanted to meet him; last to confer with him regarding features of bills providing for vocational education that are pending before the state legislature.

There has been no discussion with me on any proposed appointments to the educational system."

Statement from Superintendent.

"I am with the Farrel ticket," said Dr. Robertson yesterday, "but I was not present at the caucus in which it was named. My candidate for president of the society was Dr. A. J. Ochner, one of the city's most famous physicians, but he was unable to make the race. His name was the only one I had suggested and none of the others was named because of me."

Dr. Robertson Explains.
"I am with the Farrel ticket," said Dr. Robertson yesterday, "but I was not present at the caucus in which it was named. My candidate for president of the society was Dr. A. J. Ochner, one of the city's most famous physicians, but he was unable to make the race. His name was the only one I had suggested and none of the others was named because of me."

Courtesy cards admitting physicians at all times to the municipal tuberculosis sanitarium were mailed to members of the society several days ago by Dr. Caldwell.

"Physicians not members of the society have not been invited to the sanitarium," said Dr. Caldwell. "Dr. Farrel, however, entered an emphatic denial."

Dr. Caldwell Also Explains.

"The Farrel ticket," he said, "will be sent to every doctor in town. The reason they were sent first to members of the society was because I had a directory of the members and instructed an assistant to send them out. They will be mailed to every doctor in the city within a few days. I don't think it fair to raise the cry of politics. I've been president of the society and am a man of 60 years with enough regular work to keep me busy without being an officer of the society again."

Dr. Caldwell is one of the candidates for a position as councilor at large.

Manufacturers Deploy "Hysterical Economy."

The Illinois Manufacturers' Cost association yesterday went on record against "hysterical economy." The occasion was the annual meeting of the association at the Hotel La Salle, where 1,600 members were represented. The adoption of such a principle universal would make Americans disinterested and impair their usefulness, it was declared.

"Manufacture under the most efficient management" was one of the suggestions advanced.

Walker, Realty Dealer, Leaves Widow $550,000

The will of Henry H. Walker, realty dealer, who died on April 23, was read for probate yesterday and disposes of an estate of $550,000, all of which is left to his widow, Mrs. Jessie S. Walker of 1721 Prairie avenue.

Mr. Walker was a member of the Chicago river and harbors commission, the Chicago real estate board, the Association of Commerce, the Art institute, and several clubs.

Other projects advanced.

"We have practically completed the work of Twelfth street," said Mr. Landis, "the great project for the Michigan avenue front from the lake to Chicago avenue is almost ready to start. We feel that the next step in carrying out the Chicago plan should be direct benefit to the people of the newer west side.

Hog prices at Chicago yesterday were 25¢ lower, with the market weakest at the finish. A small proportion of the hogs, however, were sold on a 15¢/25¢ lower basis. Receipts at 29,000 head were larger than expected and allowed buyers to continue their bearish raid. Receipts were light. Top sales were at $16.20, but half of the business was from $10.00 to $12.00. Quality was again good, but not choice.

Cattle trade was slow and most of the steers sold 10¢ lower, with the heavy hogs 15¢/20¢ under Wednesday's levels. Some choice steers sold at $12.40. Packers seemed to be filled up and demand was indifferent. Cows and heifers were 10¢/25¢ lower, and calves and cutters cattle had a further decline. Bulls were strong on a good eastern demand. Receipts were 0.50¢ head. Calves were 25¢ lower, with best at $1.50.

Large numbers of cattle and cutters holding off after bidding 20¢/25¢ early, but sheep were among the arrivals of 7,000 head and they sold on a steady basis. Some native spring lambs sold at 20¢.

Why

62 business organizations printed and distributed American Magazine stuff to help their own organizations

CHARLES M. SCHWAB wrote an article for The AMERICAN MAGAZINE. He told how he found and developed men. He set down a few simple rules for success and told about men who had followed these rules and won.

These incidents were from Mr. Schwab's own experiences with men he knew and had taken along with him as he went up in the industrial world—switchmen and water-boys and other humble employees who became heads of great plants by industry and application.

On the instant appearance of this article The AMERICAN MAGAZINE was deluged with requests to reprint it. Banks, railroads, insurance companies, light and power plants, telephone companies, wanted to use this Schwab recipe upon their own employees.

They all helped sell The American Magazine

The same thing happened with every vital article The AMERICAN MAGAZINE published. The editorial policy produced many such vital articles. Vigilant readers of The AMERICAN MAGAZINE recognized the power of these vital articles, reprinted them and distributed them by thousands.

Do you know any better test of the strength of a magazine than this desire to put it where it will do the most good.

Such promotion has helped The AMERICAN MAGAZINE in many ways. It has inspired the editor, introduced the magazine to thousands of new readers with the endorsement of men who have succeeded, and drawn to it the most worth while readers of the country.

And all this time the advertising rate remains fixed at a point very much lower than the circulation it now has justifies.
